The Future is Modular

WHY MODULAR?

Easy on the eye and the environment

Building our homes in a factory controlled location allows for a more environmentally friendly home. We have less materials wastage as well as less air and noise pollution. As we move into the future, we're experimenting further with sustainable materials.

Flexible designs for a flexible life

If you love where you live but your family is changing, we've got you covered. Our modular system allows for you to expand your home if, and when, you need it whilst still maintaining all the key design features you want.

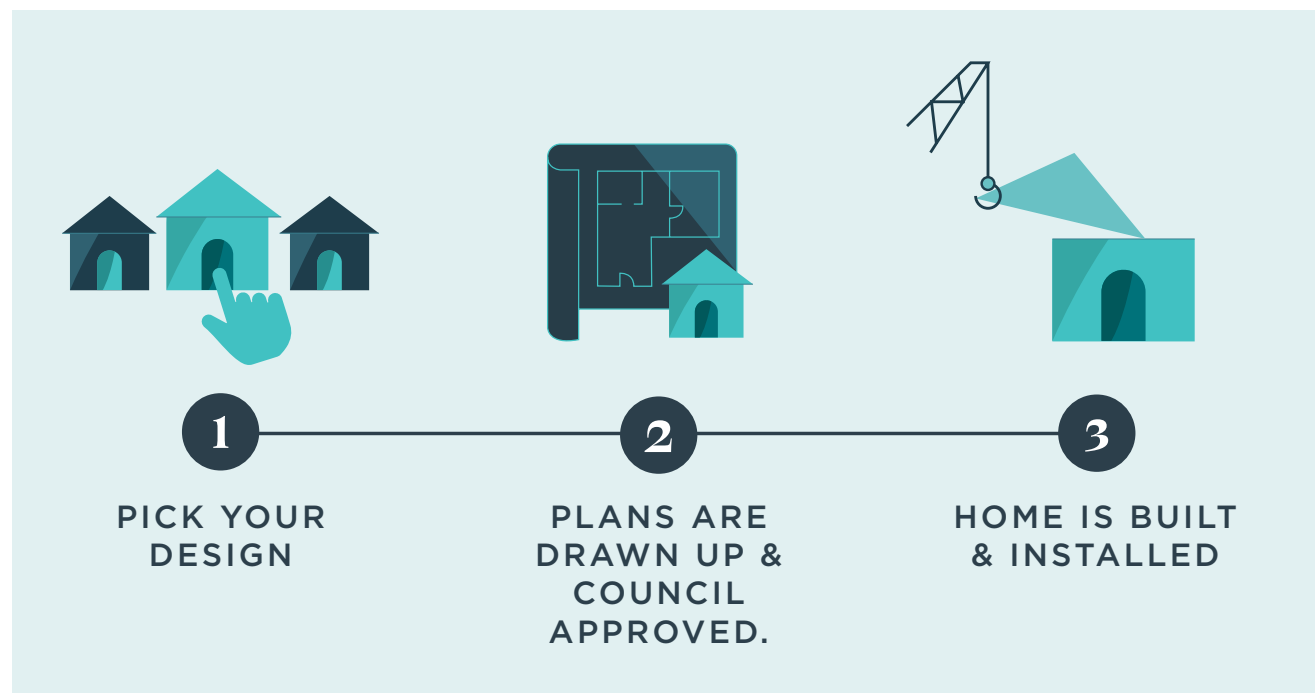

Faster build times

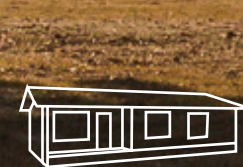

You can knock down, rebuild and move-in, in as little as 4 weeks.* Since our homes are built off-site, our standard build time is approximately 16 weeks from council approval, unless you are advised otherwise. When the build and final checks have all been completed it's time to put your home on a truck and install it on your block.

*Full installation and connections of services takes approximately 4 weeks after delivery, depending on what work needs to be done on-site and timelines set by third-party contractors. Build times mentioned do not include council approval and delays due to other statutory requirements. Once this is complete, you are ready to move into your new home.
